The Inspiration of Mr Budd

by Dorothy Sayers

Arnold Budd had a hairdressing salon. One day, he saw an advert in the newspaper:

Suddenly, a man with red hair entered Arnold's salon.

"Good evening, do you colour hair?" the man asked.

"Yes, sir. I do," replied Arnold.

"Good," said the man. "My new girlfriend doesn't like red hair. Can you colour my hair dark brown and cut it?"

"Yes, sir," said Arnold.

The hairdresser put a towel around the man's neck. He saw that the man's natural hair colour wasn't red. It was grey. While Arnold was cutting the man's hair, he mentioned the latest football game. Then Arnold spoke about the murder in the newspaper.

"I'm sure the killer is already out of the country," he said. The man laughed. Arnold saw that he had a gold tooth. "That doesn't mean anything," he thought. "Many people have got gold teeth."

"Can I see the article?" the man asked.

Arnold gave the man the newspaper and the man took it with his left hand. Arnold was shocked. The man didn't have a thumb!

"I'm ... I'm going to get the hair colour," said the hairdresser. Arnold was sure this man was the killer. Suddenly he had an idea. He took some bottles of hair colour from the shelf and mixed them. Arnold knew all about mixing hair colours. "This colour is right for you," he said while he was putting it on the man's hair.

GRAMMAR APPENDIX

El Past Continuous

Se usa para expresar lo que estaba ocurriendo en el pasado y también para describir dos o más acciones prolongadas y simultáneas en el pasado, unidas por while o as.

- Afirmativa: sujeto + was / were + un verbo terminado en -ing (consultar el Spelling Appendix, pág. 110).
I was flying in a helicopter.
(Estaba volando en un helicóptero.)
- Negativa: sujeto + was / were + la partícula not o la contracción n't + un verbo terminado en -ing.
They weren't waiting for you.
(No estaban esperándote.)
- Interrogativa: Was / Were + sujeto + un verbo terminado en -ing.
Were you riding a motorbike?
(¿Estabas montando en moto?)
- Respuestas breves: se pone el pronombre personal sujeto + was / were, sin contraer en afirmativa o contraido en negativa.
Was he reading the travel guide? Yes, he was. / No, he wasn't.
(¿Él estaba leyendo la guía de viajes? Sí. / No.)
- Con el Past Continuous se suelen usar estas expresiones temporales: las que llevan ago (hace) al final de la expresión, at + una hora, last night (anoche), yesterday morning / afternoon (ayer por la mañana / tarde), etc. Pueden ir al principio o al final de la frase, pero se suelen poner al final.

The 3D Express Coach

Cars cause air pollution. If fewer people drove cars, the air would be cleaner. If more people drive cars in the future, pollution will increase. So what do you do in a huge country like China? China has got the largest population in the world. There are already about 200 million cars, lorries, buses and motorbikes on the roads in China. That number will probably increase to about a billion (1,000,000,000) by the year 2050.

Electric vehicles are one possible solution to this problem, and China already produces millions of electric bicycles. But electric bikes can't replace public transport like trains and buses. In order to do that, you need the 3D Express Coach. What is it? It's a giant bus. It runs on electric and solar power, and it travels over traffic – not in it.

The 3D Express Coach will be 6 metres wide and 4.5 metres tall, and it will have room for more than a thousand people! It will save up to 860 tons of fuel a year.

GRAMMAR APPENDIX

El futuro con will

Sirve para anunciar acciones o hechos futuros, predecir lo que se cree que ocurrirá y expresar decisiones repentinas.

- Afirmativa: sujeto + will ('ll) + verbo en la forma base.
We will win the match. (Ganaremos el partido.)
- Negativa: sujeto + will + la partícula not (o la contracción won't) + verbo en la forma base.
They won't score another goal. (No meterán otro gol.)
- Interrogativa: Will + sujeto + verbo en la forma base. En las respuestas breves, se pone el pronombre personal sujeto + will o won't.
Will the glaciers melt? Yes, they will. / No, they won't.
(¿Se derretirán los glaciares? Sí. / No.)

El futuro con be going to

Significa "ir a" + infinitivo. Sirve para hablar de intenciones, planes o decisiones y para decir lo que va a suceder porque se ven indicios.

- Afirmativa: sujeto + to be en presente + going to + verbo en la forma base.
They are going to go to Italy. (Van a ir a Italia.)
- Negativa: sujeto + to be en presente + not (n't) + going to + verbo en la forma base.
They aren't going to win the championship.
(No van a ganar el campeonato.)
- Interrogativa: to be en presente + sujeto + going to + verbo en la forma base. En las respuestas breves, se pone el pronombre personal sujeto + el verbo to be, sin contraer en afirmativa o contraído en negativa.
Are you going to do judo next year? Yes, I am. / No, I'm not. (¿Vas a hacer judo el año que viene? Sí. / No.)

El Present Continuous con valor de futuro

Sirve para anunciar acciones fijadas con antelación o planes concretos que ocurrirán en el futuro cercano.

We're playing a tennis match on Saturday.
(Jugamos / Juguemos un partido de tenis el sábado.)

Expresiones temporales de futuro

Se suelen usar estas: later (más tarde, luego), soon (pronto, dentro de poco), tomorrow (mañana), next month (el mes que viene / próximo), in two hours (dentro de dos horas), on + un día de la semana, etc. Todas pueden ir al principio o al final de la frase, pero se suelen poner al final.

Completa las frases con la forma correcta de los verbos entre paréntesis.

will

1. He ..... will like ..... (like) the birthday present.
  2. She ..... (not forget) your phone.
  3. ..... it ..... (rain) later?
- be going to*
4. We ..... (leave) tomorrow.
  5. I ..... (not buy) anything here.
  6. ..... Dan ..... (meet) us?
- Present Continuous with future meaning
7. My parents ..... (fly) home tonight.
  8. I ..... (not go) to school later.
  9. ..... he ..... (arrive) soon?

El primer condicional

Se usa para hablar de acciones que ocurrirán si se cumple la condición señalada.

- Afirmativa: la condición (oración subordinada) se expresa con If + Present Simple, y el resultado (oración principal) suele ir en futuro con will.
He will break the record if he runs faster.
(Él batirá el récord si corre más deprisa.)
- Negativa: Si la condición va primero, se pone una coma entre la oración principal y la subordinada.
If he runs faster, he will break the record.
(Si él corre más deprisa, batirá el récord.)
- Negativa: se puede negar el verbo en presente, el verbo en futuro o ambos.
If he doesn't go, I won't be sad.
(Si él no va, no estaré triste.)

2 Completa las frases con la forma correcta de los verbos entre paréntesis. Utiliza el primer condicional.

1. If I buy a motorbike, my parents ..... won't be ..... (not be) very happy.
2. We ..... (miss) the concert if we don't leave now.
3. If Sam ..... (not apologise) to me, I won't speak to him.
4. We will get lost if we ..... (not have) a GPS.

El segundo condicional

Se usa para hablar de acciones hipotéticas referidas al presente (es decir, que es poco probable que ocurran) y también para dar consejos.

- Afirmativa: la condición se forma con if + Past Simple, y el resultado con would (o la contracción 'd) + el verbo en la forma base.
If we picked up the rubbish, the park would be clean.
(Si recogiéramos la basura, el parque estaría limpio.)
- Negativa: Si el verbo de la condición es to be, se suele usar were en todas las personas del singular y del plural.
If he were faster, he would win the race.
(Si él fuera más rápido, ganaría la carrera.)

Para dar consejos se emplea la fórmula If I were.
If I were you, I'd leave. (Si yo fuera tú, me iría.)

- Negativa: se puede negar el verbo en presente, el verbo en futuro o ambos.
If I didn't have a car, I wouldn't rent one.
(Si yo no tuviera coche, no alquilaría uno.)

3 Completa las frases con la forma correcta de los verbos entre paréntesis. Utiliza el segundo condicional.

1. If we ..... needed ..... (need) a car, we would buy one.
2. If you went to bed at a normal time, you ..... (not feel) so tired.
3. I wouldn't listen to Sam if I ..... (be) you.
4. They ..... (love) it if you visited them.
